“ I only knew you on a professional level. You were so helpful, and we became good friends. I remember you calling me when a man locked himself in the restroom. You were so cool about it, and eventually talked him out. Everyone loved working with you. You will surely be missed.

“ You were loved and will be missed so much. I can see you beaming with the biggest smile now, with your Mom and Dad and family that went before you. I know Chester is elated to see you and be together again.

I have wonderful memories of holidays that I tell my nieces and nephews; Easter Egg hunts and your Easter Basket cupcakes, Silver Aluminum Christmas Tree with the spinning "colored" lights, Decorating the house inside and out for Christmas, Halloween and Chili. You always took such joy, as much or more than the kids in these.

Going to visit you at Wekiva and just chatting about everything and nothing at the same time. Bringing each other up to date on how the families are doing.

So many happy memories of you and these are just a few. God needs his Angel, I am going to miss you Mildred.

“ Remembering all the good times...your many Christmas trees decorated just for the kids each year. All the holiday parties along with the laughs we all shared in your home.. oh but the wisdom of finance :) You were our problem solver and always kept Monk from stirring the pot too much... You are peace now...and I only can imagine all the tears of happiness when you were reunited with your lost love ones... RIP our sweet angel...fly high but land on my shoulder every once in a while....
