“ Vickie Hulbert - friend posted a condolence Joe Priore, the last pillar of Pinellas Park Wesleyan Church, I think. He was really involved with Anne in Day of Prayer, we'd try to show up for their hour. They knew how to get involved in prayer. They would just lead you into the presence of God. How awesome. My condolences go out to his family. I know if I miss that great man, they certainly will even more. God bless you all.

“ Peggy Hodge - friend posted a condolence There hasn't been a time that I have ever entered the Pinellas Park Wesleyan Church sanctuary that I didn't look for Joe's presence. He was a dynamic part of what that church was all about, loving, caring and always looking for ways to help someone. He left a great legacy, not only to his family, but to his extended family outside. We love him and miss him dearly however we know that Heaven is richer and his journey is now complete.
