“ My wife Susan and I became great friends of Nick and Judy when they lived in CT. Judy and my wife Susan worked for an accounting firm in Hartford when the four of us first met. Come tax season Nick and I spent many evenings together bringing dinner to our wives as they worked long hours during tax season. We shared our views on many subjects with great respect for each other especially when we held opposing views. We were fortunate to know Nick and Judy and their two daughters as the girls completed their schooling from elementary to high school. I believe the four of us were best of friends. We enjoyed their company while they lived here in CT. One of our more memorable experiences with Nick and Judy was a stay at WDW for Christmas and New Year’s eve celebration in 1999-2000.(it was cold!) Although we grew apart as our lives marched in different directions these past few years the 1,200 miles that separated us was no barrier to remembering what a great friend Nick was to us. He was a generous man that we will dearly miss. Judy, Nicole and Danielle - may the pain in your hearts today be consoled by the wonderful memories you must have of your husband and father. We are so thankful that Nick was a part of our lives.
