

Nirmalaben Bipinchandra Desai

July 11, 1946 - January 22, 2025

Nirmalaben “Niru” Desai was a loving wife, mother, grandmother, sister, and friend. She passed away on January 22nd, 2025, at the age of 78.

She was born to Dinkerrai and Sardaben Desai on July 11th, 1946, the oldest of 9, a second mother to them all. She was a well-respected teacher who cherished and supported her students. She married Bipinchandra in 1975 and had four daughters: Nidhishree, Preksha, Krupali, and Rudra. She relished in seeing her four grandchildren flourish: Arnav, Viha, Aishi, and Pravya.

She loved spending time in the kitchen, cooking delicious meals for her family, friends, and neighbors. She was well known for her famous khaman and papdi. She would spend hours cooking, pouring her love into feeding those around her. Her other hobbies included needlework and gardening. Her dream was that all her family would sleep on sheets she embroidered and that her garden would provide nourishment for her family.

There was no one she met that she would not give a helping hand. Everyone she met said that she was the kindest, most giving person they had ever met.

“ My aunt gave me everything I could have ever wanted. She was a rock that I could hang into whenever my family and I needed help or couldn't deal with something. I grew up without a brother or sister, and I was very fortunate that my mami gave me 4 loving sisters so close to home. There are many memories that I can share, such as Mama teaching me math, while Mami was busy in the kitchen cooking just for me. Mami and Mama would leave some Vanilla Starbucks Coffee that came in the bottles in the pantry, so whenever I visited, I could always take one home. She knew I loved them. She would spoil me even when my parents would not want her too. She made me a FSU fan, hand stitching a shirt for me when I was 4 years old. I still have that shirt, and I wore it until I was 7-8. Whenever we were bored or wanted to see family, or crossed nearby, we would stop by and visit. Even when the plan was to stop by for a few minutes on the way to someone else's house, we would end up staying for hours and would not leave without eating something. She would not let us leave without food and drinks. She would talk to my mom for hours at a time every week, about the most randomest things, but she would call without fail. She would make sure that we knew we already had someone. I will miss her greatly, but I am rest assured that she is in a better place, with my other aunts and uncles, taking care and cooking like always. She left 4 sisters that I will always cherish and my uncle who continues to teach me. Thank you for everything Mami.
