“ Jesse Yurman - Dear Friend posted a condolence Doogie, It's been a while since I've visited town and I wanted to let you know that Sal and I and still thinking of you, and we reminisce with you all the time. Tri needed help with his talent show so I showed him a few of our old dance moves and he ended up winning! I love you brother! Miss you greatly. Kim, I hope all is well with you. I'm sure Nautica is getting so big. Please tell her Sal and I said hello. Peace and love.

“ Janet Hicks - Friend posted a condolence Nautica and Kim, I am so sorry. I wish I had the kind words to ease the loss, but there are no words. However, I pray that it may bring some comfort to know that others care and are praying. Nautica, your Mom says that you are doing very well at school and elsewhere. We are proud of you. May God's peace keep and hold you both safe. -- Love, Janet Hicks

“ Leslie Snow-Gargus - Brent Beasley's Mom & stepdad posted a condolence To Noah's family, esp. his Mother. We met your son a few times when our son's shared an apt. last April/May timeframe. We really liked him right away. Losing a child is, I know, the hardest thing any mother has to endure and work through; a life unfinished. Since Brent let us know about Noah's death, you and your family have been on my mind every day. I pray for the Lord to help you through this most difficult of times. With much sympathy and love, Brent and Leslie Snow-Gargus'. (Brent & Brooke Beasley's mom & stepdad.)

“ Anonymous - Friend posted a condolence I only met Doogie one time about 10 years ago and spent a few days with him. He was a great boy, very smart and polite. I wish I could have known him more but our path did not cross again. When I heard the news, I was so sadden and I would like to send my deepest sympathy to his Mom and sister. May Doogie rest in peace and in Heaven.

“ Manh Trac - My cousin's cousin. posted a condolence Hi I am writing this because how much sorrow I feel for him and his family. I may not know him well, or probably not at all, but I know that he is dearly and substantially loved by his family and the people all around him. I know now how important it is to savor every second that I spend time with people I care for. Even if I already knew that, only through experience and reality will you really see the truth. Most of all, I really am sorry for Doogie's mom and his one and only little sister, Nautica. I know that I would never be able to feel the same way as what his mom and sister is feeling right now, and that these feeling won't last as long for me as it will to his family. One thing that we can all do know is not just pray for him, but believing that he is now with God and he will be safe forever. I am really sorry for what has happen. But from now, his memory will last forever and ever. Doogie's mom, I just want to say that this is something that no one expected, and that you must use your emotion as the source to love your family even more. I hope you feel a little better from time to time, as you spend time with Nautica. And for you Nautica, I don't know what to say. It is hard to imagine how this could happen to your own brother. I don't want you to be depress and discouraged. I need you to continue to be the fun and wild cousin that you are. Even though we are not technically "cousin", I still consider you as one because their shouldn't be any reason that I cant. Anyway, please feel better, and treasure every moment with each other. And finally for you Doogie, may you rest, in peace.

“ Melissa Robbins - Close friend posted a condolence Noah was always running around with a smile on his face making somebody laugh. He and I had met last year and became instant friends. So many memories were left behind when heaven gained an angel. Its unreal that he is really gone, everyday I sit and wait for that usual text saying "Hey! Whats up?"... But it doesnt. Loosing someone like Noah is like loosing a part of myself, I sit back and watch videos, look at pictures and reminisce in our past. I hate that he's gone and I sent my wishes to his family and other friends. This isn't an easy situation for anyone; I know he wasnt ready to go he had his ENTIRE life in front of him. He will always be in the hearts and minds of myself and everyone else. We love you so much Noah. I couldnt have a better guardian angel watching over me.

“ Jayne Pratt - friend of family posted a condolence Kim and Nautica-My family, Danielle and Nathan and I have fond memories of all of you from keene terrace baptist church. Doogie was always so loving to Nautica. He was the best caregiver outside of you Kim, for his sister. I will always remember his gentle spirit. I am so heartbroken for all of you to lose him so soon on this earth. But, remember that one day you will all be re-united in heaven; and that Jesus will wipe every tear from your eye at that time. Love, Jayne

“ Sarah Renbjor - Friend posted a condolence I've known Noah since elementary school. He was always the funniest kid in the whole class. This past year we went to a baseball game together and reminisced about forgotten birthday parties and goofing off in the 4th grade. And unexpectedly on New Years day, we ran into each other at The Round Up and exchanged hugs and hellos and went on our way. I am truly heartbroken that his time came so soon. I won't ever forget "Doogie" as long as I live and everyone who knows him would agree. My heart goes out to all who are grieving over this tremendous loss. He will forever be in our memories and hearts. Everyone, keep your head high and have strength. He would have wanted that for all of us.

“ Jeremiah Rainier - Close Friend (considered family) posted a condolence I honestly don't know how to respond. Ive tried telling myself this can not be real, Ive tried honoring your memory with words from the heart, and Ive tried to find reasoning why someone who had so much to live for would pass so early, and none of this had put my mind at ease in the slightest. Their is not a second in my day where I do not replay the information I received about you passing and not get emotionally torn and mentally block the fact that you are gone. I refuse to let someone I love so much go. This past weekend their were more then a few times I wondered what Noah is doin or I'm gonna call him to go do something, and then reality sets in and everything becomes unclear. Not even a day ago I called my voicemail and heard "Hey" answer instead of the voicemail menu and sworn it was your voice. And for the first time since you been gone, I felt the warmth of you in my heart and the comfort I need to help me push through these tough times. I knew you were watching me and appreciating the fact that I know you never leave things undone, because it happened right after I set my appointment to get that tattoo you were planning to get. I know for a fact, you wouldn't tolerate your drawing to go to waste, especially when you planned to get it done. Once Noah set his mind to things, he never turned back until he was done and I am going to keep that memory of you alive with me at all times. I can't imagine how your family is taken this, and all i can offer is my prayers and honesty that meeting him has really made an impact on my life for the better and hope that it will help in some way ease the pain of your lose. I LOVE YOU BRO.

“ William T. Tran - Beloved Cousin posted a condolence Kim & Nautica, words escape me...I feel so helpless in not being able to console your feeling of such loss! Please, know that I am here for you, my family! I so wish I could partake in the ceremony, to hug you when you need comfort, to lend my shoulder when the tears come, to talk of memories like Christmas to make you smile, to give my respects as both your loving nephew/cousin and as your friend! I love and miss you without words to describe it! Doogie will never be forgotten with me! Sincerely Billy
