“ Patty wasn't just one of my dearest friends, she was my family. She had such a genuine zest for life and knew how to enjoy every moment. I dont think that there was a momemt in the past 15 years when she didn't make me laugh and smile. Patty's light will carry on and the thoight of her will always bring a smile to my face.

“ Patty.... You always took pride in the work you performed at the City. Your willingness to go the extra mile to get customers parked before events was amazing. It was a pleasure having you work for the Parking Division. You will be missed. Becky, you have my deepest sympathy.

“ My dear friend Patty ... oh how we laughed and cut up during our many years working together and attending so many 'long' meetings. Of all the events we worked together I'll never forget the time we drove to Jason's Deli during our break while working a Magic Game. As we were cutting up and laughing I almost hit a curb at Orange & Grant. I'll never forget the look on your face. As I swerved to the left with ease to avoid the curb that suddenly appeared in front of us (ha-ha) I thought for sure you peed your pants as your feet went to the floor and you braced yourself with a freaked out look on your face. You laughed SO hard because you couldn't believe how I made it seem like it was no problem as I continued on with our conversation. Well needless to say you never let me live that down and hated driving with me!! LOL ... I will miss the fun we had and seeing your infectious smile. I luv ya 'girlfriend' =)

“ My high school friend of 46 years. Along with other close high school friends we took a trip to New York to celebrate our 50th birthdays. This is the trip we became known as "the morons" (it's a long story) and we have been going on "moronfest" vacations every year since. These are memories I will cherish forever, especially the last moronfest in June that Becky put together for all of us. Our favorite song to sing/harmonize together was "let there be peace on earth". Patty's peace is now in Heaven. I miss you winner. Love Matz

“ Patty was a fighter, it was one of the things I admired most about her. Like my wife she didn't take crap from anyone and always "shot from the hip". When she visited the shop a couple of weeks ago she didn't talk about treatment plans or how she was going slow down, it was all about the trips she had taken and the ones she was going to take. A fighter until the end. You will be forever be missed.

“ PLITTLE!!!!

Patty was my very first boss at Universal Studios Florida. This is where she acquired her nickname because her placard on her desk said P.Little and another friend just blurted out plittle. It stuck! We became fast friends and had so many fun times and laughs together. I even introduced Patty to her Love Becky. I am so glad that I did because they basically never left one another from that day forward. There are so many things that I will miss about plittle but I think what I will miss most is always getting a birthday call from her and she would sing and be so off key but it was brilliant! Farewell my friend... With Love....Bean-Head(Jean Varas)
