

Poonam Bhardwaj

June 6, 1960 - November 19, 2025

Poonam Bhardwaj of Winter Springs, Florida passed away peacefully on November 19, 2025 at the age of 65. Poonam was born on June 6, 1960 in Bikaner, Rajasthan India to Harish Chandra Jain and Sarla Jain.

Poonam was the embodiment of love and strength. She was an incredible wife and devoted mother who poured her heart and soul into her family. Brave and fearless, she left behind everything she knew to build the best future for her family, balancing motherhood and her career with unrivaled grace.

Following a successful career in the travel industry, Poonam enjoyed spending time with friends, being an active member of her temple, and participating in cooking groups and classes. She also spent a great deal of time spoiling her grand-dog, Penny.

Through every hardship, Poonam persevered with a smile. A breast cancer survivor, she approached obstacles with a quiet but dignified resilience. To know Poonam was to love her. The first to lend a helping hand or a listening ear, she was selfless, warm, and committed to creating a home she could open to all. She had a passion for cooking that transcended food; her heart was set on learning how to make people smile with her talents in the kitchen.

She is survived by her loving husband, daughter, and son-in-law. Her legacy lives on through her everlasting love for her grandson and the values that will be passed on to him. Though she will be deeply missed, her memory will forever be cherished in the hearts of all who knew her.

“ Poonam was such beautiful soul gone too soon , she is going to be missed forever but live in our hearts forever . We have such fond memories of our days in New York with her .So many holidays spent together. Her passion for cooking and big table display made every one feel so welcomed. Her faith in God made her so strong that she could fight with the health issues she was handed. God gives strength to Mukesh and Vartika to bear the loss .

Rest in peace Om Shanti 🙏
