Roxane..My name is Louise Benton Elliott. My family lived in an apartment that backed up to the Kendall home on 2nd St. I might have been two at the time. The Kendall boys always said they thought my sister and I gave them the whooping cough!

While we were in grade school (Dickie went to West Side, I think, and I went to South Side) we would get together to play. I was the Tom Boy" in the group. It was one of those play times that Dickie told me I was making the peanut butter and jelly sandwiches wrong: peanut butter on one slice, jelly on the other or it was not edible. He would like to know that I learned my lesson well! The last time I saw him was at a school reunion in Geneva many years ago but after his wife had died and he was still working.

I really am sorry that your father has died and I wish you and the family peace and good memories.

Sincerely, Louise (Class of 1954).

*Mrs. Elliott: Thanks so much for sharing your beautiful memories of my dad on here. I never knew much about his childhood and he never talked about it. But I know with folks like you sharing the memories we will have alot more and know his childhood even better. I know especially at this time it helps to ease the pain and bring a smile to our frown. God bless you for sharing ! I would like to continue to email. My email is roxanecopeland59@yahoo.com. Have a Merry Christmas and a
