“ I met Ricki because of my husband. He came home from a business trip, handed me a piece of paper with a phone number and told me I needed to call this woman. I was just a bit shocked! John met Ricki on the flight that moved her here. She had Becky with her but Bobby had broken his arm and I believe drove down with Greg. Strange way to met but I feel so blessed to have known her.

Ricki was one of a kind. She always had a smile and a kind word for anyone who came in contact with her. I will forever keep you close to my heart, Ricki, and your light will forever shine. Greg, our thoughts and prayers are with you, the kids and your family.

My deepest condolences goes out to the family. Ricki touch so many people throughout Central Florida and abroad. She will definitely be missed, however the word says to be absent from the body but present with the Lord. She is resting with no more pain nor strive to bear. God gained another Angel in heaven.

“ I don't even know where to begin! In the nearly 30 years of my life Ricki was the best aunt. I remember as a kid she would drive an hour on Friday and pick me up at school and I would spend the weekend with her and greg and the kids when they were born. I also used to fly to Maryland and spend almost the whole summer with them and loved going! I also looked forward to them coming to New Hampshire every summer once they had their own place there. One of my fondest memories is going to cousin Kathy's and playing dominos and laughing about their past. Our family was so close and we always had at least 20 people together every night in the summer. Another special memory was Christmas time, every Christmas we would go to Rickis and make sugar cookies and decorate them (Ricki loved Christmas), we were lucky enough to do that one last time last year when Ricki was well enough! That is a tradition I will continue forever with my nieces and nephews and my own kids! I'm so thankful that I was lucky enough to have a loving aunt who wanted to spend time with us. Love you Ricki and miss you everyday! See you in heaven

Ricki, was a beautiful and special friend to me. We shared fun times, we laughed we cried. Over the years Ricki and I talked about so many things. She was a outstanding, strong person. A very loving, caring, understanding and compassionate friend. Ricki, I sure am going to miss you so very much. I love you. God took you home with him and He has His arms holding you ever so lovingly and tenderly. Your battle is over. You are home now, no more pain no more Dr.'s. Ricki, your fight is over. God Bless you, God Be With You, always and forever. See you in heaven my sweet friend.
