“ My Dad was a beautiful, kind, strong, enduring soul, who made the world better for having been here. He suffered with strength and grace and faith and he loved deeply with all his heart. Not a man of many words when it came to sentiment, but you always knew he would do anything for you. His greatest moment was realizing that he was God's child and now he is forever with his Savior and all of his friends and family that went before him. See you later Dad, thank you for everything. xo <3
