“ Each day, sunlight came like a knife to a wound that was not healed when you know that someone you love is dying of cancer.

My husband, Dr. Srinivasan “Sri” Pillai was not only a devoted father and spouse but also a dedicated and compassionate physician who devoted his entire career caring for others.

Sri was a man of great strength, resilience and kindness. His love for our family was boundless, and his commitment to his patients was unwavering. He approached each day with a sense of purpose, always putting the needs of others before his own. His legacy of care and compassion will live on in the hearts of those he touched.

As a father, Sri was a source of unconditional love and support. He cherished every moment spent with our son, Bryan, and took great pride in watching him grow. His guidance and wisdom shaped our son’s life in innumerable ways, and his memory will continue to inspire us all.

In our home, Sri was the cornerstone of our family. His love and unwavering support gave us strength. He was my partner in everything, together we faced life’s challenges and celebrated its joys, always side by side.

Our beloved pet Ruby, who brought so much joy and comfort to our lives, was also a cherished part of our family. Sri had a special bond with Ruby, and their companionship was a source of great happiness. We find solace in knowing they are reunited now.

Seenu was deeply devoted to his mother, who passed away 40 days before him. Her love and guidance shaped the man he became, and he carried her wisdom and warmth with him throughout his life. Their bond was unbreakable and we take comfort in knowing they are together again.

To the medical community, Dr. Pillai was more than just a physician, he was a healer, a mentor and a friend. He approached every challenge with unwavering strength and compassion, qualities that endeared him to his patients, colleagues, and friends. He leaves behind a legacy of excellence in medicine and a profound impact on the lives of those he cared for.

*To our friends and family, thank you for standing by us during this difficult time. Your presence, prayers, encouragement, and love mean the world to us. And to Sri, thank you for the beautiful life we shared and for giving me Bryan, the best son ever. You will always be in my heart, and I will cherish our memories forever.
Rest in peace, my love.*

Cancer is not a gentle disease, and I witnessed my husband in the most traumatic and painful moments we might all rather forget.

“ In our family, Dr. Srinivasan Pillai was a cherished son, and today we grieve the loss of a devoted father to Bryan and a loving husband to Lynn.

Dr Pillai was only 54 years old. He passed away in the hospital on Thursday, Oct 10, 24 with his wife, Lynn, by his side. He died due to the post-cancer surgery complications after a great battle.

His sudden passing has deeply affected our family, especially as we are still grieving the loss of his mother just weeks ago, who passed unexpectedly from cardiac arrest.

Losing a son is a heart-breaking experience. Losing wife and son in a matter of two months is an undoubtedly horrifying & dreadful experience in a man's life. The death of a beloved & highly educated son in a loveable family is sure to put the rest into an ever- lasting grief.

As a young boy, he was very, very sweet, meritorious, intelligent, courteous and committed with a highly accomplished record in studies. He scaled new heights in 1986 in the Plus-two exam, a performance of which was a role model for the boys and girls in our extended families. We shared countless moments together, many heartfelt conversations and dreams of the future. I still cherish his” Tom and Jerry” scene walk on the streets of Abu-Dhabi in 1985.

Dr. Pillai, your contributions were immense, which needed no elaboration. Your death leaves a void in my live and causes a vacuum that can never be fulfilled. Those who knew Dr. Pillai, even just a little, would lose a shining light in their lives.

To his friends and loved ones, our family has received numerous messages of condolence over the phone, supporting us with sympathy and consolations which are accepted in gratitude in this darkest tragedy. I want you to know how touched we are by your words of sympathy and your tribute to Dr. Pillai.

As we say goodbye to Dr. Pillai, our family would celebrate the life he lived and carry on his memory with us all the time. Destiny has snatched our beloved son from us. Dr. Pillai will be missed every day by us.

Love you Seenu! - Dad (Ram)

“ My cherished memories with Seenu Anna was in my childhood. I have heard from my dad and Akhilandam Athai that our grandmother late Muthammal was a great storyteller. When she narrates a story you can see the characters right in front of your eyes. I have never listened to her. My first and best storyteller was Seenu Anna. He had come to Courtallam during one of his school holidays. I should've been in my early Elementary. I have never watched Tom and Jerry cartoons in my life. He narrated me an episode of Tom and Jerry where Jerry's cousin who has learned martial arts will impersonate Jerry during his visit and teach Tom a good lesson. I had imagined the scenes while Seenu Anna had narrated me the story seated in the Thindu in front of our house. Years later when I watched the episode, it was exactly how he had narrated and how I had imagined. He was my favorite of the three brothers and will always be. I was hoping to tell him when we meet next time on a good occasion. Guess I was too late.. Rest in peace Anna.. You will always be in our hearts 💕💕

“ Dear Srini,

Though you were taken from us too soon, we find comfort in knowing you are reunited with you mother and your beloved dog Ruby. Your courage and determination to fight this disease is nothing short of inspiring. Your fighting spirit gave us the strength to have hope and to fight along with you. You were always there to lend an ear or share your wisdom whenever we needed it. More than just a brother-in-law, you were our personal “phone-a-doctor”, always ready with advice and encouragement. Your kindness and support will be deeply missed. Rest in Peace Srini!
