

Susan Trees Juliano

June 3, 1947 - May 28, 2024

Susan Trees Juliano died unexpectedly on Tuesday May 28th in Orlando FL at the age of 76.

She was born on June 3, 1947, in New Kensington PA to Howard and Wilma Jean (Singer) Trees.

She met her eventual husband, James Frank Juliano, in high school when they were planning to double date to prom (by the time prom came around, they ditched their dates and went together). Sue and Jim dated throughout high school and college, both attending colleges in Pittsburgh, PA. She graduated from New Kensington High School in 1965 and from Chatham College in 1969. Sue and Jim were married on June 28, 1969, and moved to Utica, NY.

Sue worked as a computer programmer at Utica Mutual Insurance until she had kids. She then worked at Hamilton College Library until the family moved to Orlando in 1994.

Sue and Jim traveled extensively after Jim's retirement in 2009, enjoying long cruises and European tours. They also made many trips to the Northeast to visit their out of state children and grandchildren. Sue was the navigator and copilot on their road trips, both to the delight and dismay of Jim. She loved waking up early on Saturdays and Sundays to watch Premier League Soccer and European Rugby. Sue was an extreme polymath, studying German and Spanish in college, acing organic chemistry, and working as a programmer. She loved books, English history, and books about English history.

Susan Trees Juliano was preceded in death by her beloved husband, Jim Juliano, and her parents, Howard, and Jean Trees. She is survived by her daughter, Laura Chadwick (Thomas) of Vermont; sons, Mark Juliano of Connecticut, and Matthew Juliano (Eliza) of Orlando; four beloved grandchildren, Julia and Emma Chadwick, Alec Juliano and Nathan Juliano; and, her brother, Howard Trees of Garberville, CA.

The family requests those who wish to express sympathy to consider donating to Planned Parenthood of Southwest and Central Florida in Sue's name.

“ This hits so close to home! Our class of '65 will always remember Susan for having probably unmatched superior intelligence and love of learning. I personally know her from every homeroom I've ever been in! We enjoyed riding bikes together and collecting all the buckeyes on Riverview Drive! We loved landing at the Trees' home when hot and sweaty because, other than at Joanie Ekas's home, we couldn't count on being offered a Coke anywhere else!! I remember her always wearing a huge smile below her freckles. She loved Jim for so long, but probably not living without him. I hope she's found him by now. I appreciate the knowledge that her death was sudden. I never want my Mt. Vernon gang to meet death with suffering. My heart aches for all of her remaining family members. Enjoy your memories when together. Both Jim and Susan will be there! Blessings...

Sue and I shared the joy of being Nathan's grandmothers. He is my first and only. She was experienced with two granddaughters and one grandson. We both enjoyed her son (and my son in law) Matt's musical performances. She knew every word to every song. I miss her. We all do.

Graduated from college with Susan. Just found out today that she had died. I am actually in Pittsburgh and just finished attending our 55th Chatham reunion. There were five of us. She would have loved being here. Miss her.

Sue and I were neighbors in Mt Vernon. Our parents were good friends and spent a lot of time going out. Sue was so bright in school and I envied her. I sent my sympathy and prayers to her family
