“ My fondest memory of my big sister, Susan was when she was my matron of honor in our wedding. This takes us back to August 1968. She made a gorgeous matron of honor. I really appreciated all the work and planning and every detail she put into my bridal shower. She was a busy wife and mother at the time taking care of her sweet baby, Lory. These were the best of times to cherish and always remember. May your heart and soul be at peace. Love you forever Marion and John ❤️❤️

Sue was a fun loving hard working young lady ;) (from Buddy)

“ So sorry to the family of Susan, may she rest in peace along with my son David. I had many times spent with Sue when I lived in Conn. We used to all sit at the in/laws table and talk and have coffee and laugh. We spent many times going out together as married couples for New Years celebration never thinking we'd be celebrating her life lived. She will be missed by her immediate family along with all who knew her. RIP Sue and we will meet in paradise one day. Love Mary Ann/in Vegas.

“ I met Sue on New Years Eve many years ago. We became friends and had many laughs. We married the Frenis brothers and shared family gatherings. Fly so high to the Lord as you are one of our families angels.

“ One of my most fondest memories of my sister Susan happened in late February of 1980. My husband and I were living in a small town in south Texas. We had just moved there a few months earlier when my husband was transferred there while in the military. I had just given birth to my first child but being a new mother far away from home and family was such a formidable challenge. Also I hadn't had the time to make any new friends and my husband's job had him away from me and our daughter for 12 hours a day. Needless to say I was frightened, lonely and felt so scared taking care of an infant with no one there to help.

A short time after my daughter was born my sister Susan decided to get on a bus (she hated to fly) traveled 18 hours from Florida, spent her own time and money to help me (her baby sister) with our newborn daughter. She was a God-send to us, especially me, teaching me things about being a mom and pointers on taking care of a brand new child. But what I remember also, was that beside helping with the baby, Sue gave me a much needed moral boost full of love and caring. It was an act of true selflessness and I'll treasure that memory as long as I live. All my love, little sis Jeanie (bean)

A few memories I remember was big Sis Sue leading the sisters pillow attack on me! LOL The two of us were fishing at Judds pond in Watertown when Sue hooked on to a giant large mouth bass. It wouldn't fit in the net and broke the line and got away. What a day! Most of my visits to her place usually involved a pizza dinner. Sue had to have double cheese and double sauce. Treasured memories for ever my Big Sis. Love always Brother Jim ❤️
