“ I miss you so very much. I am sorry I have not written sooner. I am very honored & privileged to have had you in my life. we may not have been married but you will always be my husband. I have and do LOVE you with all my heart and soul. I am trying to figure out to live without you but there are days when I so do not want to. I want you here with me. Your smile could make me feel as if nothing in this world could ever be too bad. I miss your arms around me, your lips against mine. I so wish we could have had another 30-40 years together. I am glad at least we got 10 years. I pray my sadness here on this planet does not hurt you in heaven. May you be happy and pain free. I know one day we will be together again. Until then I shall wait patiently. I miss the way you picked on me, the way we picked at each other. I will always LOVE YOU with every essence of my being. You will always be "my sexy man". Love always. Your loving wife, Amy

I saw these pictures just last week on Aaron's face book. Not having seen them before, got a big smile. This is how I remember you a wonderful friend. RIP

“ I can't believe you're gone. I didn't know you like your family and friends but what I knew was a gentle giant! Very handy and has been a great help to me in a pinch on more than one occasion! I hope you are where you want to be my friend. My saddest condolences to all the loved ones Tim has left behind.

“ Our Dearest Tim ,

You've been a friend to us for so many years and you've always been there for us without hesitation. Our kids grew up together and even though our youngest who has autism, remained with us after he became an adult... You still continued to be the Best Friend anyone could ever ask for. The Photo attached is just one example of what a wonderful friend you were ..To show your love and support for our son with autism; you not only put our Autism Welcomed Decal on your well known BIG, Green truck , you also Showed off your Fabulous Smile with Amy in this picture to share with the world. You and Amy have been our Faithful Friends and that is so rare now a days. We will always treasure you both for that . It's been extremely difficult with your absence for Amy, Jessica, and Paige, but we are trying our best to help each of them to get through this heart-ache. It's very hard though...We ALL wish you were still here; You'll be Missed more than you'll ever know Tim ! Until we meet again...We Love you Bunches & Huge Hugs in Heaven.

*Your Family & Friends ALWAYS,
John, Angela, and Dustin*
