“ Barbara Bailey - daughter posted a condolence My dear Mother, I am missing you so much, but I am at peace with your passing. Your struggles at the end of your road of life were hard ones that you were not deserving of. I so wish that you could have had better health more happiness and could have lived to be 100 or more. Hold on to all of our loved ones in heaven and give Dad and all of our angels hugs and kisses for us all. You will always live on in our hearts and souls, always loved and never forgotten. Love you forever, my precious Mother. Rest in Peace now. No worries and no pain.

“ Eve Longstreet - Niece posted a condolence My sweet, sweet Aunt Grace. I will miss you so much. I have loved you almost like a mother for most of my life, and when my mother died, you told me that you would gladly be my mom now, although we both knew momma couldn't be replaced. I loved visiting you every summer as a child...us kids had so much fun and you and momma mainly cooked for the big bunch of kids between the two of you. Good things must end, but the sweet memories don't and I thank you for making so many for us all. I love you..your sweet nature was always a comfort. hugs and kisses, and I hope you and momma are cooking up a batch of bisquits for all the angels surrounding you.

“ Nancy Harwell - Daughter posted a condolence My Mother always said "that we all have a time that the Lord has chosen for us to die." She told me that even as a small child, and it was somewhat comforting when it was others that passed. So, I'm seeking that comfort now that she's gone. I'll miss the peace of mind I always felt in knowing she was here. But, I'm at peace now knowing she's no longer in pain and reunited with all those that she lost throughout the years-and how it caused her so much hurt by losing them. Mom, I miss you so much already, but know I will see you again someday in heaven. Your loving Daughter Always!
