“ My dear sister, I will never ever forget the nightly routine of singing you the Kay Sera Sera song to lull you to sleep when we were young children. If I was not eager to sing it on any particular night, you used to run and tattle to mom to make me do it. I will miss you greatly and part of my heart goes with you. I will hold fondly the memories of all the laughing and crazy antics we would always find ourselves involved in, many that we self created. All my love. Your sis, Carol

“ Vicki was my colleague and friend. She and I used to laugh about being the "oldies" in the office. We agreed that claims people were the unsung heroes of the industry with non-stop pressure from many sources, but we all forged ahead as we had loved ones to care for. I always admired her level headed approach to issues, and I knew I could always depend on her. I am so sorry that her children, whom she loved so much, have lost her.
