“ I met Walt somewhere around 1997 when i was a kid. My Dad used to work for him building pools for years. I grew up around him and even lived with him for a while when i was down on my luck. He was always a nice and funny guy. Over the years we kind of lost touch but i would always end up seeing him at Smokey Bones from time to time in his same spot at the bar. This is terrible news. I will miss the way he would always give me a hard time (in a fun way) and encourage me to work harder on my music career. RIP Wally. Hope the Golfing is good in the afterlife. - Tommy

“ I met Walt in 2002....He was an awesome guy, who I shared a bit of time with back then :) He was amazing to be around and treated my kids so kindly. He was a stand up guy, who really liked everyone.He loved his golf and going to the beach...and Smokey Bones! We stayed in touch throughout the years, but over the last 5 years had lost contact. My heart is heavy hearing this news. My condolences to his family at this time.

Rest in Peace Walt, and tell my Mother hello :) xoxo

“ *Walt,
You were a person that had a heart of gold.
Even though life had its challenges, no matter what the situation was you also walked around with a smile on your face living in the moment. Thank you for being a good friend. We hope that you are at peace now. Though your time here was cut way to soon, God has gained another angel to watch over all your loved ones. Rest in peace.
Your friends

Uncle Walt brought his crazy drone to Mom and Dad's house when I was in town for Christmas in 2014. The drone had an HD camera that could record video and take high resolution photos, but, for some reason he didn't have a memory card for it. I had one for my phone that would work with it, so we used it to snap some pictures and shoot a few videos. He showed us how it worked, and a few of us took turns flying the thing around, including myself. We had an awesome time that day and it was nice to be able to spend time with him. He did not come over very often and I live out of town, so it was really nice to be able to see him that day. All of the pictures I uploaded today have Walt in them somewhere, although some of the shots are from a good distance so it may be hard to see.

We miss you very dearly Uncle Walt. Rest in peace.
