“ When I was small I really didn't have much to talk about with my grandpa, but as I grew older we developed a very special bond. I will miss the talks we had but will cherish them forever. His laughter will echo in my mind and his conviction will remind me daily that things don't come easy, that hard work pays off and that loving people is what is most important in life. Not only did he teach me how to grow, but I watched him grow and evolve over the course of his life. I'll see you again someday, until then keep an eye on us all and guide us in the right direction. I love you so much PawPaw.

“ Buddy, as most of us knew him as, what one of the kindest, most thoughtful men I and my husband Ron have ever known. Gentle and so loving to his family and just a great man. My prayers are being sent to his family to take them through the sadness and hope they will remember the fun, and the love and thank God for having him in their lives. That's what we will do. R.I.P. Uncle Buddy....

PawPaw, I will certainly miss your wisdom and advice, your laughter, your big hugs, your prayers and your sense of humor. I was hoping that you would be around a little longer, but your journey has ended on this earth and that we will all have to accept. I will see you on the other side someday and when I do it will be so good to see you and Punky again. I love you.
